Third-Party Management

Case IQ's Third-Party Management

With the acquisition of Lextegrity, Case IQ's Third-Party Management software allows you to automate your end-to-end third-party risk management program across risks and across the life cycle of your third-party engagements in one integrated solution. Our experience working in-house at global companies led Case IQ to build the most intuitive and user-friendly third-party management software available on the market today, easing the burden on your employees and third parties.

Our responsive, web-based platform enables companies to manage all of the steps in their third-party risk management process in one system, from collecting business rationale questionnaires from internal stakeholders to gathering due diligence questionnaires from third parties. The intelligent workflow engine can easily manage complex levels of question and approval logic and complicated risk scenarios.

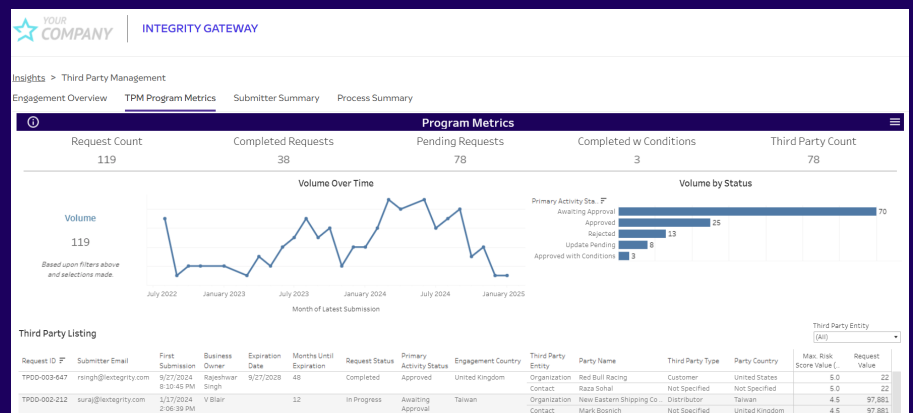

Risk score third parties, whether vendors or customers, in an automated manner across multiple risk factors, such as relationship type, countries, and scope of work. Customers configure the risk scoring methodology to tailor risk management efforts for their specific industry, country of operations, business model, and other factors. Third-party risk scores can be deployed in the application to drive approval logic and other requirements. Risk levels can also be tied to ongoing monitoring of third-party financial transactions through the Case IQ's Third-Party Management Software.

Case IQ partners with global data providers to automate sanctions, PEP, and adverse media screening and resolution in a fully automated and embedded manner within the platform. Screening is highly configurable by customers to suit their review needs and thresholds. Customers can automate ongoing reputational monitoring from thousands of global sources to identify changes in sanctions, PEP, or adverse media that may arise during the lifecycle of a third-party relationship. Case IQ partners with leading enhanced due diligence service providers, enabling organizations to order enhanced due diligence for their highest-risk engagements directly through the platform.

The reporting and dashboarding tools give access to real-time and over-time data by third-party, country, business unit, and employee business sponsor. Filter, drill down, and gain 360-degree visibility across the company's third-party landscape, then download real-time reports and data exports in seconds and export visualizations for Board and Compliance Committee presentations at the click of a button. Our technology ensures compliance efforts are continuously documented and preserved, with a full audit trail within the request record to help auditors and investigators and reduce risk.

The Problem We're Solving

We focused on the challenges every compliance team faces:

 Employees lacking sufficient tools to assess risk and own their own compliance

 Interfaces for the business that are not user-friendly or intuitive

 Too few legal or compliance resources to support the business

 Disorganized and disparate data stores, making insights difficult to generate

 Risks managed in multiple systems that do not talk to each other

 Not having real-time analytics and monitoring, leading to missed anomalies
